Cultivation Environment

- Located in Kailua Kona, Hawaii.
- An island with clean ocean and forest
- Kailua Kona boasts crystal clear seawater rich in minerals

Spirulina can only tolerate 30~40 °C for short periods. Strong sunlight and low rainfall can help Spirulina produce more nutrients. Kailua Kona in Hawaii gets an average annual rainfall of less than 500mm. Its clean air and strong sunlight makes the environment conducive for Spirulina to thrive.

Patented Seawater Freeze-drying Technology

Atomy 100% Pure Spirulina is produced using the patented seawater freeze-drying technology to minimize the loss of antioxidants and nutrients due to heat and oxidation.
